OUR BACK OFFICE INTEGRATION PUTS YOU IN THE DRIVER'S SEAT WITH LIMITED RISK

Your up-to-date back office data is immediately available to your clients. You can give your Software Administrator total control. They in turn decide which fields your clients can customize through their online system, which is automatically linked back to you via Loxxar.com. You are always in total control over how your network is accessed.

For a nominal start-up fee, Loxxar.com provides two days of on-site Software Administrator training. Your administrator can then decide what level of customization they'd like to provide for your clients, or even your clients' clients. After the training is complete, our system engineers can remotely access your system with your Software Administrator to answer concerns in real-time, then help the administrator walk through any necessary modifications. Once you're up and running, costs are directly linked to the use and success of the system. This pricing structure further demonstrates our faith in your system's performance.

YOU'LL FEEL SECURE IN CHOOSING LOXXAR.COM
